Private Jet Services Group Announces Holiday Availability

Seabrook NH, 07 December 2011: Private Jet Services Group, one of North America's largest air charter services firms, announced today new availability for the rapidly approaching Christmas Holiday Season.

Private Jet Services Group announces last minute space for travel over the upcoming holidays, including flights from the Northeast and Midwest traveling to any of the most heavily traveled vacation destinations, such as Florida, the Caribbean and western ski country.

Greg Raiff, CEO of the Private Jet Group of Companies, writes, "Each festive season, more and more travelers turn to Private Jet Services Group for their holiday flights. Our reputation for one-way pricing, the absence of repositioning fees, our clients' final say in their aircraft selection, the flexibility to choose the cabin size that best meets their needs on a trip by trip basis, and the absolute lack of pre-payment requirements and hidden costs make PJS's Total Flight Management (TFM) Program a compelling solution,".

David Goodman, Managing Director of PJS added, "Despite the economic climate these past several years, PJS has enjoyed ever increasing volumes of business from the luxury leisure travel sector," Goodman continued, "We fully expect Festive Season 2011 to set a new record for PJS,".
